Chicago once had a mayor who wasn't afraid of the newspapers. And the people elected him when all the newspapers opposed him. His name was Carter Harrison. He was the father of the present mayor.

TOT, HIT BY WAGON, DIES

Esther Rosenberg, 2 years old, 1022 South Western avenue, is dead at the West Side hospital today of injuries suffered when run over by the wrecking wagon of the Chicago Railways Co.

Just before the accident, the little girl's mother had been telling her fairy stories. She finished up by saying it was time for the sandman to appear, and went in to prepare her baby's bed.

The child, left alone, set out into the street in search of the sandman. The big wrecking wagon swirled down the street in a cloud of dust, and when it passed there was just a crumpled, bleeding little heap where the girl had been.

Coroner Hoffman will make an investigation. It is said by residents of the neighborhood that the wrecking wagon was going at a high rate of speed.

CONVINCED WIFE IS DEAD

Dr. John F. Boggess, husband of the missing Mrs. Ethel Keating Boggess, arrived in Chicago today.

Boggess was in the city only a few hours. He left for Columbus, O., the home of his father-in-law, T. J. Keating. He is quite convinced his wife is dead.

Boggess told how, shortly before her disappearance, his wife asked him about the laws regarding attempts at suicide in the various states. She asked if there were any penalty for aiding a despondent person to end his, or her, life.

Mrs. Boggess left Kansas City for Chicago August 2. She was never seen nor heard from again. From various clues it is believed she may have drowned herself in the Mississippi river.

The dream of Mrs. Boggess' life was shattered a few months ago. She had wished to become a great artist. Paralysis struck her and she lost the use of her hands.

ARREST GRIP THIEF.

Arthur Saucier, former strike-breaking newsboy for the Journal, was arrested today charged with the wholesale theft of grips from the Polk street depot.

Saucier operated with Henry Sellers and Wm. F. Pennington, both of whom were sentenced to six months in the Bridewell by Judge Going, yesterday.

Saucier quit helping the Journal break the strike of the Newsboys' union when the Journal, during the Republican national convention, refused longer to pay him the regular bonus of $1.50 per night.
